

ORBIT Expands Tracking and Telemetry/Satellite Earth Observation Business

John Caserta to Head U.S. Operations as Director of Sales and Business Development

Deerfield Beach, Florida, September 6, 2011 – ORBIT Communication Systems, Inc. (USA), a subsidiary of Orbit Technologies Ltd. (TASE: ORBI), a Satellite Communications, Tracking and Telemetry, and Communications Management Systems provider, today announced that John Caserta will head the company's Tracking, Telemetry and Earth Observation business operations in the United States. The recruitment of Mr. Caserta is part of ORBIT's continued focus on the company's Tracking and Telemetry and Earth Observation activities on a global scale.

Mr. Caserta brings to ORBIT more than 28 years of strategic technical sales, business development and customer service management experience in electronic warfare (EW), antenna and radar cross section (RCS) measurement, RF and microwave instrumentation, and channel partner activities within the aerospace and defense sector.

Prior to joining ORBIT, Mr. Caserta served as the Southeast U.S. and Latin America Regional Sales Manager for ORBIT/FR, a former subsidiary of ORBIT Communication Systems Ltd, where he was a key contributor in achieving significant growth and provided his customers with an exceptional level of service and commitment. Mr. Caserta is a member of the Antenna Measurement Techniques Association (AMTA).

Based in Pennsylvania and ORBIT's main U.S. operations in Deerfield Beach, Florida, Mr. Caserta will play a key role in leading ORBIT's efforts to expand its presence in the U.S. market and will act as a primary contact for ORBIT's U.S. customers.

Mr. Caserta can be contacted at john.caserta@orbit-cs.com or (215)-453-1230 (PA office) and (215)-704-7027 (mobile).
